

Where are they now updated...08/04/2021

Many of our residents have gone on to careers as hospitalists and primary care providers. Many former residents have pursued subspecialty training.

There are many former Einstein residents that remain at Einstein and are faculty in the Department of Medicine. They now serve as teachers and research mentors for the next generation of Einstein residents.

Here is partial list of residents that have left Einstein and their current academic and leadership positions. Please feel free to email us with any updates or additions.
